Dear Fiscal General Eric Holder,
We respectfully ask you to look into the case of the Cuban Five imprisoned in the U.S. since 1998. René González, Ramón Labañino, Antonio Guerrero, Fernando González and Gerardo Hernández were unjustly sentenced to four life sentences plus 77 years collectively. Also, two of them have been denied the right to receive visits from their wives: Adriana Perez and Olga Salanueva. Their defense lawyers have filed the case before the U.S. Supreme Court. We appeal to your sense of justice, and ask you to immediately put an end to this travesty of justice. All nations have the right to defend themselves against terrorism and that was precisely what the Cuban Five were doing. It is time that they be allowed to go home to their families and their country.

Sincerely,

A:
Attorney General Eric Holder
